

Karijini Lodge Refurbishment

Accommodation

Decmil was commissioned by Rio Tinto to refurbish the existing Karijini Lodge near Karijini National Park, Tom Price.

This complex refurbishment of the Lodge involved removing the internal walkway and redesigning 110 rooms to include individual bathrooms. The building was redesigned to include external balconies and rooms were completely refitted.

This project was completed in two sections. The first block was completed within a challenging timeframe for scheduled staff relocations, and the final handover was in March 2005.

CLIENT:	Rio Tinto
LOCATION:	Next to Karijini National Park, near Tom Price, Western Australia
EPCM:	Rio Tinto
CONTRACT VALUE:	$6 million
START DATE:	April 2006
ESTIMATED COMPLETION:	February 2007